

Data security system

Abstract :

It is a program used to protect and manage data, archive and encrypt documents, and make an encrypted backup copy of all data. This program works with several powers according to the authority of the user. It can be used for all organizations and state institutions. It is designed in an easy and uncomplicated way to suit all educational levels of users.